National symbols

Since 1990 Hungary has been an independent democratic state and a parliamentary democracy, the official name of the country is Hungarian Republic. The capital city is Budapest.

Flag: The national flag of Hungary is the tricolour with three horizontal stripes: red, white and green and the historical coat of arms.

Red: symbolizes strength

White: symbolizes faithfulness

Green: symbolizes hope.

The role model of the Hungarian flag was the French tricolour and became very popular during the revolution of 1848/49.

Since 20 August 2000 the flag has to be used on official buildings.

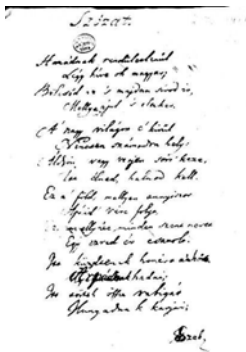

The Hungarian crown: The Hungarian crown, the oldest in Europe, was given to Saint Stephen, the first Hungarian king, on the occasion of his coronation in 1001.

The national anthem: the lyrics of national anthem of Hungary were written by Ferenc Kölcsey, its music was composed by Ferenc Erkel in the 19th century. The anthem refers to the most important historical events of the country and is played at various events.

The poem and song titled 'Szózat' can be considered as a second national anthem of Hungary. The poem was written by Mihály Vörösmarty and Béni Egressy composed the music to it. Szózat is sung at the end of the various ceremonies.

The Hungarian coat of arms:

The national coat of arms consists of the crown of St. Stephen, the state-founder king and the silver stripes are said to represent the four rivers (Duna, Tisza, Dráva and Száva) while the hills represent the three mountains (Mátra, Tátra, Fátra) however this theory is not historically founded.

Medical Insurance in Hungary

Residents of the European Union member states:

The medical care of the European Union residents is ensured in Hungary on the basis of the European Health Insurance Card. The common European Health Insurance Card replaces the following forms: E111, E110, E109 and E128.

The EHIC entitles EU citizens to reduced medical costs on the territory of the European Union, Switzerland and the European Economic Area.

The quickest and easiest way to get an EHIC is to apply online; the card is valid for 3 to 5 years and patient will be treated on the same basis as the citizens living in the visited country.

Residents of Non-EU countries:

Non-EU member states residents will be treated on the basis of the various bilateral socio-political or medical-care agreements.

- Socio-political agreements:
with Serbia and Montenegro, Croatia, Macedonia, CIS except for the Baltic states

Citizens of these countries are provided with emergency care and treatment free of charge in Hungary. The treatment is limited to emergency health care.

- Medical-care cooperation agreements:
with Sweden, Finland, Norway, Jordan, Kuwait, Angola, Iraq, Mongolia, South Korea, Cuba.

Citizens of these countries are entitled to thorough medical treatment including emergency health care. In case of medical help they are required to produce a proof of identity proving that they are entitled to such service by law.

Public Transport in Hungary

Hungary has an extensive public transport system, particularly in the capital. The domestic fares are well under the European average.

Travelling inside the country:

By train:

The centre of the railway system is the capital, Budapest. The city has three main railway stations, Southern, Eastern and Western Stations. There are scheduled intercity and express lines to all the main cities and towns of Hungary.

For further information, check the schedule of the Hungarian State Railway:

www.elvira.hu

By bus:

Hungary has a very well developed bus network, with which you can reach any part of the country.

Budapest has three main Bus stations:

Erzsébet tér bus terminal - Direction Western-Hungary

Népszínház bus terminal - Direction Eastern-Hungary

Árpád híd bus terminal - Direction Danube-bend

The local bus transportation is also extensive in most towns. Buses run usually from early morning until late in the evening. There are also some bus lines travelling 24/7 in Budapest. For further information, check the schedule of VOLÁN, the Hungarian bus company.

www.volan.hu

City public transportation:

The public transportation of the cities is well developed. In the main cities of the country (Budapest, Debrecen, Szeged, Miskolc) there are buses, trolleys and trams that provide convenient and rapid transport inside the towns. In Budapest you can also use the underground and HÉV (suburban railway).

By plane

The main airport of Hungary is Ferihegy which has two terminals (Ferihegy 1 and Ferihegy 2A and 2b). Beside Ferihegy Airport there are altogether 19 smaller airport borders in Hungary. These airports welcome flights from other cities of Hungary, but the price of this type of travelling is quite high in Hungary.

University towns in Hungary

Szeged

Fascinating streets, beautiful squares, and the shore of the Tisza are perfect scenery for the unforgettable schooldays in Szeged. The city of sun is rich in cultural programmes, festivals, let alone its lively weekdays with the cosy pubs and clubs designed especially for students.

Klauzál Square

Pécs

Narrow streets, Mediterranean atmosphere with some monuments of the Turkish occupation surrounded with the slopes of Mecsek. Pécs is a city offering several higher education programmes together with a vivid cultural life. What is more, you have to travel just a little and you find yourself on one of the most significant wine producing areas.

Debrecen

Wide streets, spacious squares, the Reformation Cathedral - situated in the North of the Hungarian Great Plain, Debrecen is the second biggest city in Hungary often called the “Calvinist Rome”. It has been the home town of several famous poets, and also the second home for lots of students. The Hortobágy National Park, where you can find the biggest “puszta” with its special flora and fauna, is only a stone’s throw away from the city.

Veszprém

Built on seven hills, on the two sides of Séd creek, the “City of Queens” is a prosperous town in the Transdanubian region offering more and more cultural programmes every year. Veszprém is only 15 kms from Hungary’s biggest lake, Lake Balaton, and is bordered by the slopes of Bakony – no wonder it was Queen Gisela’s (St. Stephen’s wife) favourite city.

Győr

Győr is a mellow and colourful town, the second richest in historic buildings. Situated half way between Budapest and Vienna, on the banks of River Rába, this is a town of festivals where friends of the arts and those who are eager for a high-quality relaxation can find attractive programmes all the year round.

Miskolc

The city lies at the meeting point of different geographical regions – east from the Bükk mountains, in the valley of the river Sajó, and the streams Hejő and Szinva. The University of Miskolc is one of the newest universities of Hungary as it was founded in the 1950s. The university, the campus and the sport facilities are surrounded by a large park in a nice surrounding.

Budapest

Budapest is the capital city of Hungary and the country's major political, cultural, commercial, industrial and transportation centre. The fascinating, busy city is also the home of many state, denominational and foundation universities. The Eötvös Loránd University or ELTE, founded in 1635, is one of the oldest and the largest universities in Hungary
