Introduction

Euroguidance Hungary started operating in Szeged in 2000 in the framework of the Leonardo da Vinci Programme of the European Commission. Presently it operates as a unit of the National Employment Service and the National Labour Office. During the period of 2007-2013 the European Union background is provided by the Lifelong Learning Programme. The main objectives of the centre are to support vocational guidance, lifelong learning and international mobility, promote Hungarian and international counselling projects as well as language learning and employability.

On our website www.npk.hu and www.euroguidance.hu you can find lots of information on European education opportunities, higher education institutions as well as on vocational trainings. Visitors can also gain information on the conditions of entering tertiary education and on the mutual recognition of qualifications.
